IS HOLDING HIS OWN

MINE WORKERS' PRESIDENT RE-MAINS CALM UNDER SEVERE CROSS EXAMINATION.

OPPONENT ADMIRES HIM

Attorney MacVeagh, for the Erie Company, Tells Mr. Mitchell He is the Best Witness for Himself He Ever Confronted—Lawyer Makes Strong Efforts to Show Irresponsibility of the Miners' Union.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 18.—In the presence of as many persons as could be jammed into the superior courtroom during the day, Wayne MacVeagh, for the Erie company, and John Mitchell, for the miners, continued their brilliant battle of cross examination before the anthracite coal strike commission. The two men, the one in his thirties and the other in his seventies, were followed with intense interest by both the commissioners and the crowd throughout the day, and the contest will be resumed in the morning. The fourth demand of the union, which calls for a yearly trade agreement, and which means a straightout recognition of the union, was the bone of contention, and although four hours were taken up in discussion of the question, not much material progress was made. Wayne MacVeagh, skilled in the art of cross examination, attempted to show the utter irresponsibility of the union and its unfitness to make contracts which it could not live up to. His principal argument was the alleged boycott, and he often pressed the miners' president for an answer. The latter, however, slowly and deliberately gave him reply, but he did not always satisfy the inquisitor. Mr. MacVeagh, in the presence of the assemblage, expressed his admiration of the ability of the witness, and on one occasion, when Mr. Mitchell parried a question regarding the boycotting of a coal and iron policeman by a hotel keeper, the distinguished attorney threw up his hands, laughed, and said: "Mr. Mitchell, you are the best witness for yourself that I ever confronted."

Mr. MacVeagh weighed heavily on what he said was a reign of terror in the anthracite region during the period of the strike. He read a list of fourteen names of

during that time and also submitted evidence about seventy-five pages of acts of alleged violence, boycott and intimidation, and, with the assistance of stacks of other documents, maintained that it would be utterly impracticable for the coal companies to represent to enter into agreements with an organization that could not control its own men.

Mr. Mitchell stoutly maintained that the discipline in the organization is as good as it possibly could be where 147,000 men were involved. He asserted that the strikers were not entirely responsible for the acts of lawlessness that were committed. He regretted that members of the union had, in some instances, violated the law, even after they had been warned to refrain from doing so, but made the excuse that in times of great excitement there was always more or less disorder.

In answer to questions, he said that where there was a reign of terror, and he had no information that such was the case during the late strike, conditions arise that are "intolerable" or "unfortunate." Replying to specific instances pointed out to him by Mr. MacVeagh, where men had been deterred from going to work through fear of personal harm or social ostracism for themselves and families, Mr. Mitchell said that in some cases men may have been deterred, but denied the assertion that such alleged acts prevented the mines from being operated. He said that when the strike was declared, every mine worker in the region quit work and remained out even after the of the state had been thrown into the coal fields. In short, he said, that the men would not have gone to work under any condition.

The miners' president, no matter how skillfully he was questioned, could not be dragged into a flat admission, that he, as president of the union, approved of the boycotts complained of by the companies. He had his personal opinions of some phases of the boycott, but would not express them as being the sentiment or policy of his organization. During the cross examination, the commissioners often interrupted with questions in order to stop a long colloquy over some disputed point. While the examination was at times quite spirited, the best of good feeling prevailed. Only once Mr. Mitchell showed signs of irritability. This was when Mr. MacVeagh, reading the long list of acts of violence, would take Mr. Mitchell to task for some particular vicious act, and say, sharply:

"You could have prevented this."

In the course of the forenoon session, Mr. MacVeagh examined Mr. Mitchell regarding the eight-hour demand, and referred to the fact that Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield and William McKinley worked more than eight hours a day and were thus enabled to climb the ladder to the presidency. Mr. MacVeagh grew eloquent in the course of putting one of his questions to Mr. Mitchell regarding the martyred presidents, and added:

"I only mention these because they are the three victims of the spirit of anarchy, which is the curse of this country today, and the only serious curse afflicting it."

Mitchell's Quick Retort.

The miners' president, quick as a flash, came back with the inquiry: "Trade unions are not held responsible for it, are they?" to which Mr. MacVeagh quickly responded that they were not, and supplemented this with the remark that labor unions are most admirable. The bringing of the word "anarchy" into the examination caused a distinct murmur of disapproval from the many mine workers in the courtroom.

While the discussion of the effect of a yearly agreement would have on the coal industry in the anthracite region was in progress, frequent reference was made to the workings of agreements in soft coal regions. This led to the announcement by Chairman Gray that the commission had decided to invite Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, to testify before the commission. This announcement was favorably received by each side and the attorneys for the miners and the operators made suggestions for additional witnesses. Mr. Wilcox, general counsel for the Delaware and Hudson company, after a conference with other attorneys, handed up a suggestion that "such other witnesses, if any, as the Illinois Coal Operators' association may deem proper, for the purpose of showing the effects of the trade agreements with the United Mine Workers of America," be invited to attend.

Mr. Darrow, counsel for the miners, also suggested several names.

Proceedings Very Slow.

The investigation is dragging too slowly to suit the commissioners, and it is likely the commission will ask both sides to agree upon some arrangement for expediting the investigation. Mr. Mitchell has now been on the stand for three days and has been examined by the attorneys of only two companies. The second attorney, Mr. MacVeagh, is not yet through with him. The lawyers for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, or the Philadelphia and Reading company, will next take Mr. Mitchell in hand, unless the programme is changed.

The attorneys for the nonunion men presented their case to the commission in the evening. They have asked the commission to take up the grievances of the nonunion men growing out of the strike, and as the nonunionists are not a logical party to the arbitration scheme, their attorneys had been requested to give reasons why the commissioners should take up their case. If it is decided to hear them, it will inject an entirely new feature into the investigation, and one which was not expected at the time President Roosevelt created the commission.

Mr. Mitchell closed his testimony for the day by stating in answer to a question, that the alleged acts of intimidation and violence did not contribute to the success of the strike at all. At 4 o'clock the commission adjourned until morning.

NONUNION MINERS' CASE.

Statement Filed With the Coal Strike Commission.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 18.—The nonunion mine workers, through their attorneys, John T. Lenahan and Joseph O'Brien, have filed the statement of their case with the anthracite coal strike commission. When the commission was created by the president, it was not expected that a third party would be injected into the investigation. On Friday Messrs. Lenahan and O'Brien appeared before the commission and said they represented the nonunion men employed in the mines during the strike, and they desired to know whether they could present their case to the commission and what would be the status of attorneys before that body. The commission decided that they would have to know definitely what case they had before they could determine their status, and this is contained in the statement just filed. It is said the nonunion miners seeking recognition before the commission number 2,000.

FIGHT AT A FUNERAL

FRISBEE AND MANS FACTIONS CREATE A REIGN OF TERROR AT CANEY, KY.

FREE USE OF FIREARMS

Trouble Starts in the Cemetery During the Last Services Over a Child of

One of the Frisbees—Two Participants Fatally and Several Spectators Slightly Wounded—Renewal of the Battle Hourly Expected.

Caney, Ky., Nov. 18.—This little town is in a state of siege on account of a fight between the Frisbee and Mans factions, which has been going on at intervals for the past twenty-four hours. Sunday the child of Bob Frisbee was buried in this county. Kelley and Bob Mans and Gatnu Howard, enemies of Sam Frisbee, and Frank and Al Lykins, were at the cemetery and began raising a disturbance. Frisbee's friends protested. The Mans boys walked outside the graveyard and dared the Lykins boys to follow. Frisbee and some friends started with the Lykins boys for the hotel by another route when the Mans began shooting. The Frisbees covered their retreat with revolvers and the Howard-Mans faction fired at them at long range. One or two spectators were slightly wounded and one of the Mans boys received a bullet in his shoulder. Frank Lykins was shot in the abdomen.

After reaching the house, Frisbee and his friends stationed themselves at the windows and began firing rapidly at their enemies, when the Howard-Mans faction retreated. An hour later they returned, reinforced by several friends, and riddled the hotel with bullets.

In the meantime Lykins and Frisbee had escaped to the mountains on horseback to alarm the neighborhood. Both sides are heavily armed. Frank Lykins will die and Kelley Mans is dangerously wounded. Both factions include men prominent in the affairs of the county. The town has no protection excepting from the county officers, who are powerless because of the standing of the participants in the battle. No arrests have been made, and each hour it is feared will bring on a renewal of the encounter.

DON'T COME HIS WAY.

President Has Not Even Had a Shot at a Bear Yet.

Smedes, Miss., Nov. 18.—The bears in the swamp country around the president's camp on the Little Sunflower seem to have effected a successful combine to prevent the president having a single shot at one of them on the expedition. The only one started during the day fled in a northeasterly direction at the first cry of alarm and did not stop running until he reached the cane brakes about nine miles from camp. There he was overtaken by Mr. McDougal, one of the managers of the Smedes plantation, who killed him at seventy paces. The president, who had started in the morning with Holt Collier, did not hear the dogs after they first struck the trail.

The president takes his ill luck good naturedly. He says it is simply the fortune of the chase and that he will have another try.

Sheriff Corns and deputies afterward caught the men, who gave the names of Charles Johnson, James Mock, Frank Smith and Harry Gray, all claiming to live in Cincinnati.

HONOR TO MEMORY OF F. B. JOHNSON.

Funeral Services Were Held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church this Afternoon.

BUSINESS HOUSES ARE CLOSED.

Services Conducted Under Auspices of Blue Lodge-Large Turn-out of Societies.

The solemn services over the remains of the late Frank Bivins Johnson were held this afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church and from the time the funeral train began to move up Sixth street toward his late home, business in the city was practically suspended until after the funeral.

It was one of the largest funerals ever held in this city. It was under the auspices of Aurora Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and Ascalon Commandery, K. T., acted as escort. At the home the remains were viewed by the members of the different organizations that turned out, after which the procession moved to the church where the services were held.

There was an unusually large turn out of the Blue lodge and the Knights Templar. The Elks also turned out in a body, something like 150 being in line. The members of the A. O. U. W. were also in line.

The little chapel of St. Paul's parish was crowded to the doors long before the funeral train arrived and it was taxed to its utmost capacity during the solemn and impressive ceremonies. The Rev. C. E. Faarar read the lesson, and prayer was offered by Rev. George H. Davis, of Mankato.

The Rev. Mr. Davis delivered the funeral sermon, and his remarks brought tears to the eyes of all as he spoke of the honest sincere life of the deceased. He said that he had no eulogy to make for the departed was too well known to all, but he spoke as one who had been personally acquainted with him, having enjoyed with him many hours of fraternal and social intercourse. Then too he had been in his home when a cloud hung over it. His first trip back to the city after leaving the parish of which he was rector, was to officiate at the funeral of the beloved wife of the deceased. The sermon was listened to with great attentiveness throughout. The parish choir sang several hymns and when the last dying notes of "Lead Kindly Light" were sung there was not a dry eye in the edifice.

The ceremonies at the grave were simple but impressive. A large throng followed the remains to their last resting place at Evergreen cemetery, where the body was laid to rest beside that of his beloved wife, who died many years ago.

The bier was completely covered with flowers, and it was one of the grandest displays of floral emblems and showers of dainty flowers, that has ever been seen in the city. They were massed in gorgeous array about the casket and the coffin rested, almost hidden beneath the radiating beauty, as though embedded in a perfect sea of chrysanthemums, carnations and roses. One of the most beautiful tokens was from Aurora Lodge, No. 100, of which deceased was past master. It was a large design of the square and compass of white roses and clusters of chrysanthemum and was a beautiful thing. Then there was a beautiful rose and carnation keystone, the emblem of Brainerd Chapter, No. 42, R. A. M. The Knights Templars sent a beautiful design of the cross and crown which was one of the most costly pieces. The Order of Eastern Star contributed a beautiful star made of white roses, interspersed with fern and other beautiful cut flowers. The Knights of Pythias contributed a beautiful pillow of white and red roses and the Rathbone sisters had arranged a beautiful triangle, the emblem of their order, out of different varieties of cut flowers. The A. O. U. W. had a beautiful anchor of white roses as their token and a large wreath of beautiful roses, of varied colors, with the colors of the order artistically draped, was a contribution from Brainerd Lodge, B. P. O. E. The deceased was a noble of the Mystic Shrine and Zarah Temple, of Minneapolis, with which he was affiliated, sent a beautiful design of the dagger and the crescent. These were the contributions from the different orders which the deceased belonged to and it is seldom ever that so many beautiful tokens from these sources are given.

The contribution from friends of the deceased were also very beautiful, but too numerous to describe in detail. One of the most beautiful was a large broken pillar design, made of roses and chrysanthemums which was contributed by his old friend and associate, H. P. Dunn. Another broken pillar of red roses came from Dr. Groves. Other beautiful flowers were contributed by the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Faris, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. M. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farrar, Mr. and G. D. LaBar, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kees, Minneapolis, Mrs. Treglawny, Miss Bessie Treglawny, H. B. Treglawny and Chas. Treglawny, Mr. and N. H. Ingersoll, Mr. and Mrs. Adair, Mrs. F. E. Smith and Miss Eloise Smith, Judge McClenahan and George Moody, Miss Merritt and Miss Baker, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Frater, Dr. and Mrs. Werner Hemstead, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Swartz, C. C. Kyle, J. L. Fredricks, Dr. O. T. Batcheller, Mrs. Harry E. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sanborn, Mrs. Coventry, Mr. and Mrs. George Ames and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Parker.

A beautiful cluster was contributed from the following clerks in the two stores in which Mr. Johnson was interested: G. W. Chadburne, C. Morse, Arthur Cullen, H. M. Poets and David Marier. At the grave deep lines of beautiful flowers were strewn and it presented a very beautiful picture.

Old City Council Meets For the Last Time Last Night in Coun- cil Chambers.

LIBRARY RESOLUTION PASSED.

City Treasurer Linneman Submits His Annual Financial Report Last Night.

Monday night the official lives of the city fathers, who have guided the destinies of the city's affairs for the past few years, passed into history but with the death knell there was little or no demonstration. The old-timers met the same as though nothing had happened, and the old members who retired with last night's meetings hurried through some little business in which they had been interested in and in which they will not have a voice in the future. Those who responded to the roll call were: President Crust and Aldermen Halladay, Gardner, Erickson, Purdy, Koop, Rowley, Fogelstrom, Doran and Wright.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which contained the resolution fixing the levy for the ensuing year for city purposes, Alderman Wright called attention to the fact that the library proposition had carried at the recent election and he thought that that the 1/2 mill voted should be placed in the resolution. At this juncture a committee addressed the council on the matter, being present to see to it that the project was properly launched and to see to it that all legal barriers be removed. They stated that they had interviewed Judge McClenahan on the matter, believing that that person was well acquainted with the affairs of the city and they learned from him that in order to make the levy perfectly safe and legal a new resolution should be passed, fixing a stipulated sum to be raised by the said levy. The following resolution was offered and was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, by the council of the city of Brainerd, that the sum of $900 be raised by taxation in the ensuing year upon the taxable property of the city, for a "library fund," under the provisions of Chap. 106, general laws of the state of Minnesota for the year 1879.

City Engineer Whiteley reported that five catch basins and two man-holes had been placed on Front St. He also made a report of other minor work done during the past two weeks. The report was on motion filed.

The finance committee reported having checked up the books of City Clerk F. E. Low and found them to be correct. The report was received and filed.

Harry Katz sent a communication of the city council asking that he be granted permission to hold an auction at his place of business on Laurel street to reduce his stock. He held that he had been a resident of this city for five years and was entitled under the ordinance to secure special privileges, but the council last year passed through an auction license war that they do not wish to retrace and therefore whatever action was taken was with due caution. They referred the matter to the proper committee to investigate.

Alderman Fogelstrom, of the police committee, stated that there was supposed to be a report from his committee on the matter of the death of "Old Sam" at the city jail. He said the city attorney was to have made a report on the matter but that that gentleman was not present. He would not vouch for any report unless the city attorney was first seen.

The "rock" question came up again and City Engineer Whiteley was instructed to correspond with parties at St. Cloud and ascertain what crushed rock could be secured for.

Alderman Fogelstrom wanted his protest to the election of Mr. Murphy as alderman from the Fourth ward, placed on the minutes of the last meeting. He agreed to have the protest sent to the council in written form.

After allowing a few accounts and claims the council adjourned.

AITKIN MAN KILLED BY AN OLD CRUISER

John Borg, a Merchant of Aitkin, is Murdered in Cold Blood Saturday Night.

THOUGHT MURDERER INSANE.

Injured Man Taken to Grand Rapids Where He Died Yesterday Morning.

Aitkin county has another murder. This time John Borg, a merchant, is the victim. He was shot on Saturday evening at Mississippi Landing in the northern part of Aitkin county, by an old cruiser by the name of A. C. Bennett. He was taken to Grand Rapids where he died in a hospital yesterday.

The shooting was a cold-blooded act, done without the slightest provocation and no reason can be advanced for it except that Bennett was crazed by drink.

Borg went up in that country to take a homestead and was referred to Bennett as a cruiser. They went out in the woods together, Saturday and were gone all day. Bennett, who is a heavy drinker, had with him a large bottle of whisky, and throughout the day he had frequent recourse to this and when night came he could not navigate very well and Borg had to finally take him home.

Arriving there he put Bennett to bed and started across the river to get some butter to be used at their evening meal. Upon his return and just as he landed from crossing the river, a shot was fired at him which missed, and then another which went through the lower part of his body a little below the waist line.

Borg saw his assailant and rushed at him, wounded as he was. He clinched and shouted for help. The response was quick and Bennett was overpowered.

Constable Paul Jacobson took charge of Borg, taking him to the hospital at Grand Rapids, where he now lies. He then returned to Mississippi Landing and arrested Bennett. Sunday morning he landed him in the county jail at Aitkin.

There was absolutely no cause for the deed so far as is known. Bennett, after Borg had left, crawled out of bed, got his gun, went down to the river's edge and lay in wait for Borg. He is very quarrelsome when in drunk and the only explanation of his strange deed is that he was crazed by drink. Upon his arrival at the jail in Aitkin he was not yet thoroughly sobered, and all that could be had from him was that he shot Borg and that he meant to do it.

P. H. Carney Better Today.

P. H. Carney who suffered a slight stroke of apoplexy on Sunday is reported much better today and it is thought now that he will manage to pull through all right. His speech has returned to him and what paralysis there was has left his body.

Mr. Carney is one of the oldest engineers on the Northern Pacific, his run for years being on the passenger between this city and St. Paul. It is thought now that he will have to give up his run and live in a quiet atmosphere for a time.

ABSOLUTE FAITH.

You Can Depend Upon the Word of This Brainerd Citizen.

She has had the experience

She has absolute faith in its merits.

Mrs. N. G. Blake, of West Brainerd, says: "I suffered a great deal from inflammation of the kidneys and I grew worse in place of better. My back in the region of the kidneys was sore, lame and hurt me very much, an aching pain being ever present. The kidney secretions were dark in color and on standing deposited much sediment. When Doan's Kidney Pills were advertised I sent my son for a box. I was a little afraid I would not be able to use them for I cannot take some kinds of medicine. I found, however, that they were mild in their operation and did not produce any bad effects. Before taking them very long the kidney secretions became healthy in color, all deposit was removed, and the soreness and pain were replaced by a perfectly comfortable feeling."

Sold for 50 cents a box, at the McFadden Drug Co., H. P. Dunn & Co. and all druggists. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"FRIENDS."

Mr. and Mrs. E. Milton Royle, ably assisted by a strong company, last night at the Brainerd opera house presented Mr. Royle's own strong comedy drama, "Friends". In these days of roaring farce comedies and absurd and sensational dramas, it was a great relief, as well as a genuine pleasure, to see a strong simple drama that relies for its success on the strength of its dialogues, witty sayings, and the art of the actor. In the hands of such talented people as Mr. and Mrs. Royle and their able assistants, the piece was a perfect gem, and those who failed to attend and enjoy it, were extremely unfortunate to say the least. The attendance was small, but so great was the art of Mr. and Mrs. Royle that they aroused the appreciation and enthusiasm of the small audience to such an extent that they were compelled to respond to a curtain call after each act, and at the third act the audience was not satisfied until they appeared again and again. Their support, also, was entirely adequate, not a poor character being given. It is to be regretted the attendance was not larger, as theatrical people will get the impression that Brainerd people do not like to see meritorious drama, but prefer farce comedy or the sensational rot now passed for dramatic strength.

"THE BONNIE BRIER BUSH."

Of all the book plays that have been done in New York the past three years—the adaptation of "The Bonnie Briar Bush," produced by Kirke LaShelle at the Theatre Republic, with the veteran actor, J. H. Stoddart, as star, seems to have been received by metropolitan critics and the public with the greatest measure of favor. The dramatization of Ian MacLaren's Scottish stories is accredited to Mr. James MacArthur, an editor of "The Bookman," and Augustus Thomas, the brilliant author of "Alabama," "Arizona," "On the Quiet" and "In Mizoura." Mr. Stoddart, who begins a stellar career at the time of life when most actors are thinking of retiring, has made the most notable individual impression of the present season on Broadway.

Now Mr. Stoddart comes to the Brainerd Theatre next Saturday evening Nov. 22. He will be supported by all the principals of the original New York cast.

ECHO OF STEEL STRIKE

FEDERATION OF LABOR TAKES UP DIFFERENCES BETWEEN GOMPERS AND SHAFFER.

BOTH ASK INVESTIGATION

Convention Adopts a Resolution Appointing a Committee to Inquire Into Charges Made by Shaffer Against Gompers Last Fall—Former at a Disadvantage, as He Says He Has No Evidence With Him.

New Orleans, Nov. 18.—Either Theodore Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel Workers, or Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is destined to pass under a cloud. The eclipse may be temporary and the man who goes under may emerge at some other time, but an eclipse there will be for one or the other. It is a fight to the finish, and at present odds favor Gompers. The trouble, which so suddenly came to a point in the convention of the American Federation of Labor during the morning, is an echo of the great strike against the United States Steel company, which was fought and lost last year by the Amalgamated association under the leadership of Shaffer. After his association had been defeated, President Shaffer did not hesitate to utter charges of a serious nature against President Gompers, as well as against John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, and Frank P. Sargent of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. He asserted that the organizations over which these men presided had, while listening to the advice of their leaders, refused to lend a helping hand to the Amalgamated association and had even fought against it in the dark.

The charges were leveled against Mr. Gompers in particular, and the following extracts from the secret circular issued by President Shaffer show more specifically their scope and nature: "As the strike went on the American Federation of Labor gave us not a cent. Perceiving that lack of money, loss of public approval, desertion by hundreds of our own people and neglect of other organized bodies would make it impossible to gain a decisive victory, we endeavored to save what we could.

Allegations of Bad Faith.
"I arranged for Mr. Gompers to meet Mr. Morgan to effect a settlement. Mr. Morgan gave up his vacation, went to New York and waited for Mr. Gompers, who failed to appear, nor has he since explained why he neglected our interests."

This circular came to the notice of President Gompers last fall, and he made a reply denying that he had acted in bad faith toward the Amalgamated association.

The convention was dragging along slowly, there being but few committees prepared to report, and an adjournment was imminent. Delegate J. P. Sheridan of the Amalgamated association, a colleague of Mr. Shaffer, rose and after some debate secured the unanimous consent of the convention for the admission of the following resolution:

"Whereas, President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, at their last convention held in Wheeling, W. Va., made charges against President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, which impeached his fidelity to the principles of unionism; therefore, be it Resolved, That the federation appoint a committee to investigate said charges and report findings to the convention, in order that the truth may be known."

Mr. Gompers at once said: "It is quite immaterial to me what course is pursued, my only request being that prompt action be taken on the resolution. Its contents, in a few minutes,

Will Be Spread Broadcast
throughout the country. I don't want this matter to drag."

All eyes then turned on Mr. Shaffer, whose tall form was erect at the foot of the platform upon which Mr. Gompers sat. His face was flushed and he spoke rapidly.

"I ask," he said, "I urge, and, yes, I demand, the fullest investigation of these charges."

President Mahon of the street car men's association at once made a motion that the matter be referred to a special committee of five.

Vice President Duncan offered an amendment, which was accepted by Delegate Mahon, that of the five members, Mr. Gompers name two, Mr. Shaffer two, and the four a fifth. This motion was adopted by the convention and Mr. Gompers named as his representatives John A. Moffitt of the United Hatters and Edgar A. Agard of the glass bottle blowers' association. Mr. Shaffer later named J. M. Slayton of the carpenters and joiners and W. H. Haskins of the United Mine Workers of Ohio.

When the committee met in the evening but three members were present, and after waiting for some time, it was decided not to appoint the fifth member and attempt work until morning.

The general opinion among the delegates is that Mr. Shaffer is not in an advantageous position. The investigation came upon him as a surprise, he having no knowledge of the matter until just before the convention opened. Whatever proof of his charges he may have elsewhere, he has, by his own admission, none with him.

UNPRECEDENTED FAME

Vinol, the New Form of Cod Liver Oil.

SENSATION IN MEDICAL CIRCLES

Not Only in America, But Also in Europe.

"Good news goes fast," said Mr. Dunn of the firm of H. P. Dunn & Co., yesterday, talking to a reporter about that wonderful Vinol, concerning which so much is heard nowadays. "Why, you know that besides being talked about in New England, many of the prominent papers in America are devoting more or less space to this wonderful discovery. See here, what do you think of this?" Whereupon Mr. Dunn produced an article from the Lancet of London, England.

The Lancet is the greatest medical publication in the world, and anything appearing in its columns is considered as indisputable evidence. "Let me read this to you," said Mr. Dunn. "I won't bother you with much of it, but here is enough to show you what the great men of the old world think of Vinol," whereupon he read the following:

"Recent investigation has led to the isolation of several distinct bodies in cod liver oil, notably amongst which are the alkaloids. These principles have been tested faithfully and the results form the subject of an exclusive report by Gautier and Mourgues in the Journal de Pharmacie, who concluded that the combined active principles of cod liver oil act as powerful stimulants of nutrition and assimilation, and show definitely the nature of the principles to which the oil owes its valuable medicinal properties.

"And the best part of all this is," continued Mr. Dunn, "it is not only the physicians that are enthusiastic, but the people who are taking the remedy. After all, I do not blame them much, either. It does not take but a minute for any one who is obliged to take cod liver oil to find out that Vinol is tasteless. Then the patient soon realizes its advantage. It does good so much more quickly, and accomplishes the desired end in a much more marked manner than cod liver oil in its crude form was ever able to do. Oh yes, of course I consider the success of Vinol as assured. How can it be otherwise, a discovery that has revolutionized the form and made it practical to prescribe the greatest-known medicine for all wasting diseases.

"Just think what it means; getting all the benefits in a concentrated form, and no more nauseating, vile-smelling grease. Yes, come anytime you would like to see me. I am always glad to see you about Vinol, and I find out more to say in its praise every day."

Chicago Constable Deliberately Shoots an Escaping Prisoner.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—In the shadow of the stockyards police station and within two feet of two police officers, Constable Stanley Swiercz shot and killed Casimir Povalovski, who was arrested during the day at Whiting, Ind. Swiercz was escorting Povalovski to the police station for safe keeping, when the prisoner broke away and attempted to escape. Only one shot was fired, and that without a command to halt.

Captain John Revere and Lieutenant Downey ran up and arrested the constable, who was bending over his prisoner. Tony Bartkowiek was also arrested for aiding Swiercz in kidnapping Povalovski from Indiana.

Casimir Povalovski was arrested for larceny Oct. 13, but was missing when the case was called.

Bartkowiek went with Constable Swiercz to Whiting during the day and had a local officer arrest Povalovski and lead him into Illinois, where the constable took him and started for the stock yards station.

Burlington Route

Dining Cars a la Carte

Our Dining Cars, operated on the European plan, offered service of the highest character, and have an international reputation.

Mrs. S. S. McClure, of "McClure's Magazine," writes: "I have traveled on most roads in Europe and America, and have dined on such as have restaurant cars. I would rather dine on a Burlington Route dining car than any other I know of in the world."

These cars are beautifully decorated, lighted by electricity and ventilated by electric fans. The table ware was made to order for the Burlington Route. Fresh flowers always on the tables. Close attention is paid to every detail of the service.
